Director of the Quality Assurance Unit at the Faculty of Education Holds a Meeting with the Teams of the Chemistry (English Program) and General Arabic Programs to Follow Up on Accreditation Readiness

As part of the Quality Assurance Unit's keenness at the Faculty of Education – Capital University to support the faculty's programs and qualify them for accreditation, Prof. Dr. Ibrahim Al-Zuhairy, Director of the Quality Assurance Unit, held a meeting on Monday, October 26, 2026, in the Quality Assurance Unit hall with the quality assurance teams of the Chemistry in English and General Arabic programs. The meeting aimed to review the completed tasks and quality requirements, as well as to monitor progress in fulfilling accreditation standards.

The meeting addressed the review of completed files and documentation for both programs, discussed the obstacles and challenges facing the work teams, and explored ways to overcome them while providing the necessary technical support to complete accreditation requirements in accordance with approved standards.

The meeting emphasized the importance of unifying efforts and maintaining continuous coordination between the Quality Assurance Unit and the two program teams. It also highlighted the commitment to specified timelines to enhance a culture of quality and continuous development, supporting the readiness of both programs to apply for accreditation.
