

Objectives of the Bachelor of Arts and Education Program, Specialization in Psychology (Preparatory and Secondary Levels):

The Bachelor of Arts and Education Program, specialization in Educational Psychology (Preparatory and Secondary Levels), aims to prepare qualified teachers and distinguished psychologists capable of competing locally, regionally, and internationally. These graduates will possess comprehensive scientific, educational, and professional knowledge, in addition to educational and societal awareness. The program aims to develop qualified personnel who meet the demands of the job market and contribute to solving societal problems. Students will become knowledgeable, creative, and research-oriented in the fields of educational and instructional psychology. They will be communicative, collaborative, change-oriented, and possess a moral vision. Furthermore, the program aims to cultivate lifelong learners, equip them with the skills to teach psychology at the secondary level, and reinforce professional values and commitment to the ethics of the teaching profession.
